

The EVERGREEN NEWS

A Neighborhood Newspaper Sponsored by Vollintine-Evergreen Community Action Association

Cotton 'Quarters

by Hinda Silber

Many a time this reporter has strolled past the National Cotton Council building at 1918 N. Parkway and wondered who was dear old Oscar, the gentleman so graphically displayed on a plaque in front of this building. Indeed, what was this building?

After an interview with EMMETT ROBINSON, the public relations director of the Council, this reporter emerged much better informed.

Oscar, you see, was the late OSCAR JOHNSON of Greenville, Miss., who founded the Council and headed it until ill health caused his retirement in 1948. The Council was formed in 1939 and was located there in 1955. The National Cotton Council is the central headquarters for the cotton industry. Its objective is to improve the future of cotton through programs to increase gest and most effective research program possible for cotton, (2) to cut costs both on and off the cotton farm, and (3) to improve cotton products;

PUBLIC RELATIONS AND PROMOTION — working to improve cotton's image by building a greater appreciation and understanding of the cotton industry and its products;

FOREIGN OPERATIONS — working to strengthen and expand U.S. cotton exports;

INDUSTRY POLICIES AND PRACTICES — working on policies and practices important to cotton both within and outside the industry and particularly in relation to the federal government.

These programs are executed through staff headquarters in Memphis, a Washington office, trade representatives abroad, and field representatives working with cotton and other groups in major cotton states.

One of the most delightful duties of the National Cotton Council is the annual selection of the Maid of Cotton, who acts as an emissary for the cotton industry. This year's lovely Maid is Debra Plough who became the first finalist in the 35-year history of the prestigious selection to forget her lines while making a speech and still emerge with the title.

A seven-member panel of judges headed by a Dean of Women from a college select the Maid of Cotton. The judges look for a natural spontaneity in the contestants during the many interviews conducted. According to Emmett Robinson, a judge in the contest, fakery is easily detected.

Upon selection, the Maid of Cotton is well grounded in the many facets of the cotton and agriculture industry. She is, after all, the international goodwill ambassador for the American Cotton Industry.

In promoting cotton, the Maid tells the story of the nation's fourth largest crop, with an annual manufactured value of $12 billion. Some 300,000 farms, covering 12 million acres, along with a total of better than 5 million persons in all aspects of the industry, are dependent on cotton.

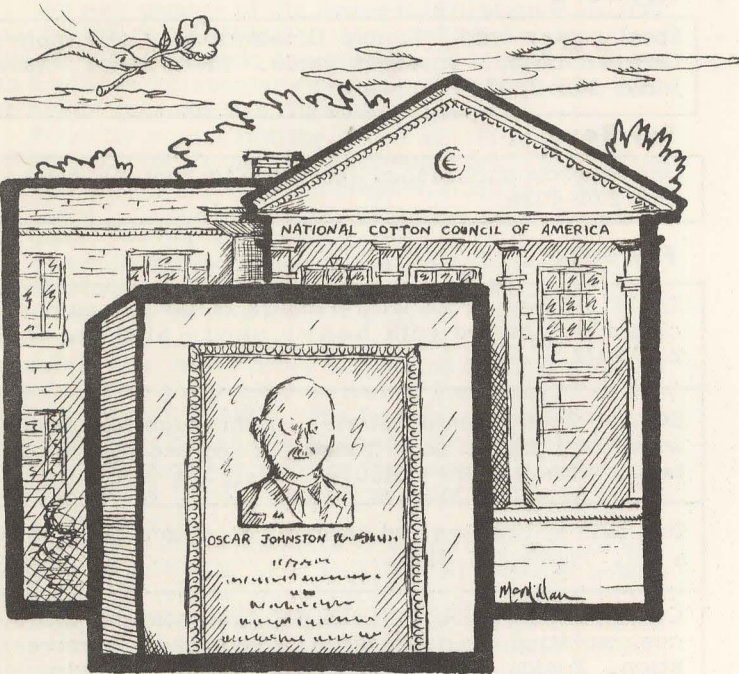

So the next time you walk past the National Cotton Council building you'll know, as I didn't, what an important function this Council serves. And, oh yes, please don't forget to salute Oscar who started it all.

Around The Neighborhood

Several Northside High students and graduates have formed a panel to inform prospective students about the school. The panel, composed of both white and black students, hopes to allay fears of white students coming from the V/E, Westside, and Trezevant areas. They will make their first appearance at Lindsay Memorial Presbyterian Church this month. Panel members are DEBBIE BARLOW, DELOIS WILLIAMS, WILLIE FRY, LARRY WALKER, and RICHARD LOWRY.

VECAA'S newest standing committee is the clergy committee, composed of the clergymen of the neighborhood. The first official action of the committee was consumption of U.S. cotton, cottonseed, and their products throughout the world.

The next VECAA meeting will be Monday July 16 at 8:00 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall at McLean Baptist Church. The annual election of officers has been rescheduled for this meeting.

Like the Congress of the United States, the Council is a representative body composed of about 285 delegates selected by the nation's cotton growers, ginners, cooperatives, warehousemen, merchants, cottonseed crushers, and cotton manufacturers through their own state, regional, or national organizations. The delegates elect a board of directors of 35 leaders, 5 from each branch. The board meets four times a year to conduct Council business between annual meetings. It elects the officers who in turn name the program committees. There is a committee for each of the four major areas of Council operation:

TECHNICAL RESEARCH — working (1) to get the big-

SCRAP PROCESSORS
LAZAROV BROS.
TIN COMPRESS CO.
 WE BUY OLD CARS
 1166 N. SEVENTH 525 - 0683

 BILL & JIM'S
GULF SERVICE
 MECHANIC ON DUTY
 U-HAUL TRUCKS AND TRAILERS
 1712 JACKSON 275-7568

COMPLETE LINE
 OF
 FINE BAKERY GOODS
John's Bakery
 1688 JACKSON 276-8431

providing watermelon for the June meeting of VECOA. As a result of a request from the clergy committee, the Evergreen News will be distributed monthly in quantity to the churches for distribution to members who live outside the neighborhood. Ms. CECELIA RUSSELL of 1931 Lyndale will coordinate this distribution.

The improvements to the sewer system at Buckman Laboratories that were described at a meeting at Vollen-tine School last December have been completed and put in use. According to Dr. JOHN BUCKMAN, the system is working reasonably well but some sewer overloads still occur. Another project to recycle cooling water will help prevent the overloads. The unpleasant odor, which is costing Buckman about $25,000 to control, comes from a chemical used in mold-resistant paint and fire-retardant plastic products.

The current project of the Shelby County Democratic Club's Precinct 40-2 is a proposal for the participation of black contractors in all city-sponsored construction projects. According to BROTHER GREENE, precinct club president, the proposal was introduced by SCDC and other neighborhood and city-wide groups in the City Council on June 12. The Council will take up the proposal on July 3.

Ms. SARA TERRY of 732 West Drive is vice-chairman of a new women's group called "All American Neighborhoods". At its organizational meeting last month, Ms. MARGARET DICHTTEL, chairman of the VECOA steering committee, predicted that women will play a major role in changing housing patterns.

On June 7 the Planning Commission voted to recommend R-TH rezoning for the old Galloway property between McLean, Overton Park, Hawthorne and Autumn. Mr. GARY BELZ, who is purchasing the property from Southwestern, said he will consider restoring the Galloway mansion, which was the subject of the feature story in the April issue of the Evergreen News. He was unable, however, to guarantee its preservation. The Mid-Memphis Improvement Association (MMIA) opposed the rezoning unless preservation of the home could be assured. Ms. AGNES BOWE, president, and Mr. RONALD PHILLIPS, director, spoke for MMIA at the hearing. Final hearing by City Council on this case is scheduled for July 17.

Shopper's Choice

by Rick Thomas

A new restaurant opened in the V/E community on April 18. Located at 2360 Jackson Avenue, the NAPOLI INN specializes in ribs, barbeque and steak. The restaurant seats 100 persons and is open seven days a week from 4 p. m. until 2 a. m. The rather short menu features a generous order of ribs for $3 and a half-order for $2. The steak entry runs $4.50.

The remodeled restaurant is located in what was formerly the Pizza House and is owned by the same person. The change in specialties was prompted by a growing demand for barbeque ribs. The Napoli Inn is being managed by Earl Wright who formerly managed the King's Inn on White Station Road. Both Mr. Wright and the owner are familiar with the neighborhood although neither lives here. They feel the community has a good future but are not anticipating much business from V/E residents.

The dimly-lit but comfortable establishment is in the process of becoming a private club and membership will be required for admission. Although beer is sold the manager is hoping a family-type crowd will constitute the bulk of its membership.

Artwork

Freelance art work. Signs. Illustrations. Calligraphy. Charts. Logos. Business cards. Invitations. Steve Jolly, 276-7907.

For Rent

One bedroom unfurnished apartment for rent by owner. Call 274-4036.

For Sale

TABLE — Heavy wood with 8 chairs, it has extensions — chairs are covered with heavy vinyl — $110.00. Call 274-9417.

SOFA — Scotch guard material — light beige background with floral prints. Long front table and two square side tables with drawers — $150.00. Call 274-9417.

Two twin mattresses and springs, good condition. $25 a set. Phone 272-3134.

OZARK LAND BUYERS GUIDEBOOK. Essential for those contemplating Ozark property for investment or recreation. Topics include surveys, taxes, home construction, soil evaluation, legal aspects, etc. $2. "Buying Ozark Land," Box 4435L, Memphis 38104.

Program

FAMILY Communications Retreat, 2 - 10 p.m., Saturday July 14 at McLean Baptist Church. Leader: Dr. Liston Mills, Vanderbilt University. Registration deadline July 11. Cost — $3.75 per person. For information, call 274-3766 (church office) or 272-2668.

PHELPS
DECORATING CENTER
 1065 N. Watkins 275-3223

$ IF YOU NEED TO $ SAVE MONEY
 CALL DAVID AFTER 5:00
 274-8868

MECHANIC ON DUTY
ED CISSOM'S
EXXON
 585 N. McLean 274-1881

EVERY SUNDAY 7:30 P.M.

B I N G O

AT LITTLE FLOWER
NOW! BIG 5 in 1 JACKPOT SPECIAL
$350 MINIMUM PRIZES
ON REGULAR CARD

IRVIN SACHRITZ

526-6431 or 276-6216

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

899 Sheridan

TENDER LOVING DAY CARE

HOT LUNCHES

7 A.M. - 6 P.M. MONDAY-FRIDAY

60¢/HOUR, $3/DAY, $14/WEEK

MRS. R.H. DOUGHTY, DIRECTOR

AGES 2-6

275-3460

McLEAN BAPTIST CHURCH

Sitter

Will babysit in my home. 75¢/hour. Call Mrs. D. Jolly, 276-7907. 990 Stonewall.

Welcome

FRED and SARA TERRY moved from Germantown to 732 West Drive recently. Dr. Terry is chairman of the Engineering Division at Christian Brothers College and an elder at Balmoral Presbyterian Church. Ms. Terry is an ex-speech therapist and is a volunteer worker at Hamilton Elementary School. Their children are MIKE (6) and LAURA (4).

JOE and GRACE GLASS of 614 Trezevant came back to Memphis from Nashville, where Mr. Glass was assistant director of the VA hospital and assistant director of allied health services at Vanderbilt. He is with the VA hospital here as assistant director.

The new owners of the house at 1970 Mignon are JEFF and ELAINE LINKINHOKER. Mr. Linkinhoker is a land planner with Colloredo Associates and Ms. Linkinhoker is a business representative with South Central Bell; both are recent graduates of Ohio State University.

Recently moving into the house at 1413 Tutwiler were HUGH CLOWER, Jr. and his two daughters, AMY (5) and JULIE (4). Formerly living in Frayser, Hugh is a delivery man for a fruit market and occupies his spare time with his girls, reading and photography.

A population explosion in the Southwestern area has added two new V/E residents. Born to GERALD and JUDY DUNN on May 22 was KRISTIAN EILER. The Dunns with their new son and old daughter, ERIN (12), live at 1943 Lyndale. One block over, BOBBY and CLAIRE BARNETT celebrated on July 1 the arrival of their second child, 21-inch BROOKE CLAIRE. The Barnetts and their son BRAUND (4) live at 1910 Mignon. (Both families were listed as new neighbors during the past year and are indicative of the trend toward younger residents in the V/E community.)

Next door to the Barnetts is another set of new neighbors. LANGFORD and JACQUELINE RAMSEY bought the house at 1916 Mignon last month and moved to the V/E area from East Memphis. Mr. Ramsey is the office manager for the city tax assessor's office and lived in the community as a young man. Mrs. Ramsey is a native of Chicago and enjoys artwork and sewing when not working as an accounting clerk.

OPEN EVENINGS
BY APPOINTMENT

Aladdin Beauty Salon

275-4581

954 Maury

ITALIAN
&
AMERICAN FOOD

PLATE LUNCHES

DINO'S
Southwestern Grill

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

645 N. McLean Blvd. 276-9288

MERCHANDISE
ARRIVING DAILY

HADASSAH THRIFT SHOP

Donated New & Used Goods
Proceeds Go To Youth Charity

1428 Jackson Av. at Crosstown

Gossip

LISA ST. CYR of 805 No. Evergreen will attend Phillips Academy this summer on a scholarship from the Volunteer Placement Program. Lisa will be a senior at Northside High next year.

JOHN FERGUS RYAN of 1937 Lyndale Avenue recently presented a one-man art show at the Brush & Pencil Studio at Poplar and Perkins.

Evergreen News co-editor, GEORGE BRADFUTE, was inducted into the Society of the Sigma Xi on May 1. Sigma Xi is an association of scientists established to encourage communication concerning research ideas, methodology and achievements. Mr. Bradfute is an electrical engineer at Baptist Hospital.

Meet The Neighbors

Presidential Address

by Rick Thomas

Last winter the Board of Trustees of Southwestern at Memphis began a search for a new school president following the resignation of Dr. William Bowden. Five months and fifty candidates later the two selection committees appointed by the Board unanimously chose James H. Daughdrill, Jr., to occupy the position and the presidential home at 671 West Drive.

Although Jim is in his first role in the college setting it is probable that his varied background makes him well suited for the task. Born and raised in LaGrange, Georgia, Jim attended McCallie School in Chattanooga. There he was president of the student senate and won the most outstanding student award. He then spent two years at Davidson College after which he transferred to Emory University. In 1956 he received an A.B. degree in English with a minor in business.

Jim spent the next eight years in the employ of a Georgia carpet manufacturing company. He advanced rapidly from office manager to manufacturing manager to company president in the first two years. During this period he was a director of the American Carpet Institute and among other awards was cited as the Cartersville, Georgia, "Young Man of the Year" in 1961.

The EVERGREEN NEWS

A Neighborhood Newspaper Sponsored by Vollintine-Evergreen Community Action Association

Cotton 'Quarters

by Hinda Silber

Many a time this reporter has strolled past the National Cotton Council building at 1918 N. Parkway and wondered who was dear old Oscar, the gentleman so graphically displayed on a plaque in front of this building. Indeed, what was this building?

After an interview with EMMETT ROBINSON, the public relations director of the Council, this reporter emerged much better informed.

Oscar, you see, was the late OSCAR JOHNSON of Greenville, Miss., who founded the Council and headed it until ill health caused his retirement in 1948. The Council was formed in 1939 and was located there in 1955. The National Cotton Council is the central headquarters for the cotton industry. Its objective is to improve the future of cotton through programs to increase gest and most effective research program possible for cotton, (2) to cut costs both on and off the cotton farm, and (3) to improve cotton products;

PUBLIC RELATIONS AND PROMOTION — working to improve cotton's image by building a greater appreciation and understanding of the cotton industry and its products;

FOREIGN OPERATIONS — working to strengthen and expand U.S. cotton exports;

INDUSTRY POLICIES AND PRACTICES — working on policies and practices important to cotton both within and outside the industry and particularly in relation to the federal government.

These programs are executed through staff headquarters in Memphis, a Washington office, trade representatives abroad, and field representatives working with cotton and other groups in major cotton states.

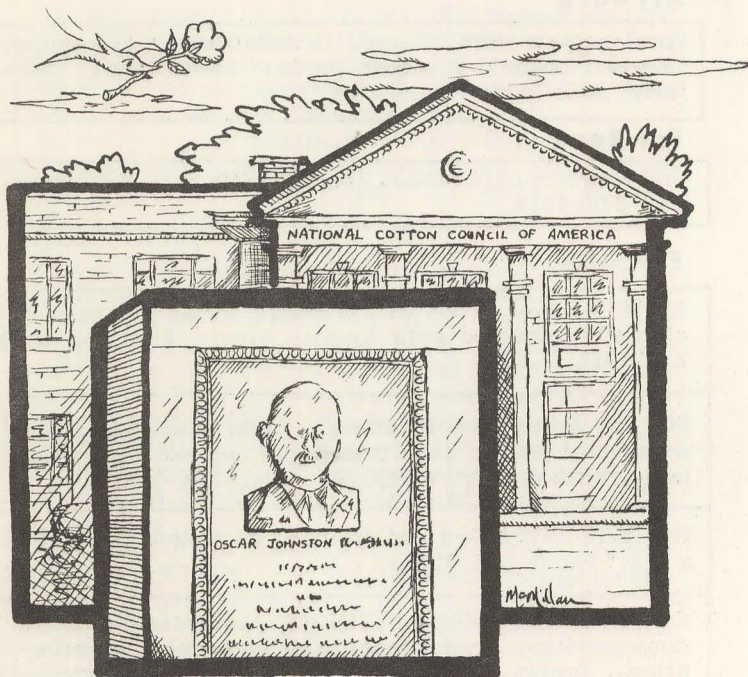

One of the most delightful duties of the National Cotton Council is the annual selection of the Maid of Cotton, who acts as an emissary for the cotton industry. This year's lovely Maid is Debra Plough who became the first finalist in the 35-year history of the prestigious selection to forget her lines while making a speech and still emerge with the title.

A seven-member panel of judges headed by a Dean of Women from a college select the Maid of Cotton. The judges look for a natural spontaneity in the contestants during the many interviews conducted. According to Emmett Robinson, a judge in the contest, fakery is easily detected.

Upon selection, the Maid of Cotton is well grounded in the many facets of the cotton and agriculture industry. She is, after all, the international goodwill ambassador for the American Cotton Industry.

In promoting cotton, the Maid tells the story of the nation's fourth largest crop, with an annual manufactured value of $12 billion. Some 300,000 farms, covering 12 million acres, along with a total of better than 5 million persons in all aspects of the industry, are dependent on cotton.

So the next time you walk past the National Cotton Council building you'll know, as I didn't, what an important function this Council serves. And, oh yes, please don't forget to salute Oscar who started it all.

consumption of U.S. cotton, cottonseed, and their products throughout the world.

Like the Congress of the United States, the Council is a representative body composed of about 285 delegates selected by the nation's cotton growers, ginners, cooperatives, warehousemen, merchants, cottonseed crushers, and cotton manufacturers through their own state, regional, or national organizations. The delegates elect a board of directors of 35 leaders, 5 from each branch. The board meets four times a year to conduct Council business between annual meetings. It elects the officers who in turn name the program committees. There is a committee for each of the four major areas of Council operation:

TECHNICAL RESEARCH — working (1) to get the big-

Around The Neighborhood

Several Northside High students and graduates have formed a panel to inform prospective students about the school. The panel, composed of both white and black students, hopes to allay fears of white students coming from the V/E, Westside, and Trezevant areas. They will make their first appearance at Lindsay Memorial Presbyterian Church this month. Panel members are DEBBIE BARLOW, DELOIS WILLIAMS, WILLIE FRY, LARRY WALKER, and RICHARD LOWRY.

VECAA'S newest standing committee is the clergy committee, composed of the clergymen of the neighborhood. The first official action of the committee was

The next VECAA meeting will be Monday July 16 at 8:00 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall at McLean Baptist Church. The annual election of officers has been rescheduled for this meeting.

